

Mel Maryns

Lyrics – Once Upon a Time

released July 29, 2021

Producer: Mel Maryns, Kleber Sampaio

Songwriter: Mel Maryns

Label: Mel Maryns

ISRC: QZHZ62176627

[Verse 1] Once upon a time She lost her crown Running from the witch Hiding all the stitches In a broken mirror on the wall on the wall Only seventeen Falling down Seven millions tears In a glass of fears Lying down alone on the ground on the ground [Pre Chorus] And now she is caught In a castle of bones Carrying all the past But she's not that strong [Chorus] Mirror on the wall Who is the saddest of all? There's no ball gowns No fancy crowns Just a broken heart [Verse 2] Once upon a time She used to laugh Leaving all the screams Saving all the dreams In a golden mirror on the wall	Love can be true there's no doubt everlasting bliss waiting for the kiss in a bed of roses by the crowd [Pre chorus] And now she is sitting In a throne of lies Looking for the light Deep inside her eyes [Bridge] who is on the wall? is it the evil or the good after all who is on the wall? why don't you show your face once and for all [Final Chorus] Mirror on the wall Who is the saddest of all? There's no ball gowns No fancy crowns Just a broken Mirror on the wall Who is the saddest of all? There's no ball gowns No fancy crowns Just a broken Just a broken Heart
---	--

Tags:

Cork

Ireland

Dublin

Songwriter

Music

melmaryns

Mel Maryns

Original Music